

HAWKWOOD BOOKS NEWSLETTER

January 2016

3 BOOKS, 1 CABINET

We all need help at times but for Philip, Lisi and Louey it comes in the most unexpected way. The Cabinet of Wonders is a series of 3 books, each standing alone yet linked by the mysterious cabinet.

Louey had never seen such a close family. He hadn't seen many families, full stop, but this one circled around Hildegard as if they were afraid she would vanish and leave them lost and alone.

For capable readers aged 11 and over.

Complete set comes in a slipcase

Please note, books 1 and 2, Philip and Lisi, were both previously published six years ago by Hawkwood under different titles. Details on Nielsen.

PHILIP, LISI AND LOUEY

Three children, each with their own problems to face, each alone to face them. Enter the strangest of gifts, a cabinet with instructions and material to build gateways to the past. And in that past lies help and inspiration.

From Newton to Hildgard

Philip King finds himself in Ancient Rome, saving the life of a slave. Lisi befriends a young Isaac Newton, full of anger and resentment. Louey discovers music through little Hildgegard of Bingham, a girl sold to the all-powerful church.

Philip navigated his way downstairs, rubbing sleep from eyes that were oh so serious and sad. They'd been that way since his mother died a long, long year ago. This was supposed to be a new house and a new start, but Philip hadn't left the old home behind, carrying it snail-like on his back, slow and heavy

AI SHEET AND PROOF COPY

Please see the enclosed AI sheet for isbns, pricing and availability. The website offers more details including extended extracts. Enclosed proof / inspection copy is given freely. The final editions may vary slightly. There is no need to return this. If you have any questions, please ask.

BRUNT BOGGART

Our May title, Brunt Boggart by David Greygoose, has been nominated for the Carnegie Medal 2016. Whether it goes any further remains to be seen but I wish David (and myself) luck. If you haven't already read it, it is a beautifully written poetic epic, rich in imagery, emotion and wisdom. Isbn 978-1-908577-44-3. RRP £8.99

Contact

Hawkwood Books

The Terrace, Grantham Street, Lincoln LN2 1BD
Tel and Fax: 01522 808576
info@hawkwoodbooks.co.uk
www.hawkwoodbooks.co.uk